SYNOPSIS

Ida is a spirited ten-year-old girl growing up in the rural Slovenian countryside where she lives with her parents and grandmother who is her greatest support.

But when grandma's health suddenly worsens, Ida becomes convinced that only the mysterious singing from the nearby cemetery can help her. So she decides to join the school choir—but her voice is so out of tune that she is rejected at the audition.

Crossing the line between reality and the magical world, Ida must face the loss and changes that come as part of growing up.

DIRECTOR'S NOTE

»Through the world of childhood loneliness, I wanted to show the space between the lightness of everyday life and the quiet presence of an inevitable loss. In the face of this feeling, one can escape into imagination, play, solitude, or time with friends, looking for safety wherever possible. The film mainly takes place in these moments.«

– Ester Ivakič

DIRECTOR'S BIO

Ester Ivakič (1992) is a director, scriptwriter, editor and visual artist who has been working with film art in various ways since 2015. In 2016, she graduated from the School of Arts in Nova Gorica with a degree in Digital Arts and Practices, and continued her Master's studies in Film Directing at the Academy of Theatre, Radio, Film and Television (AGRFT) in Ljubljana.

In 2016, she received a special jury mention at the Slovenian Film Festival for her graduation film “Srdohrd”, and in 2021 she won the Best Slovenian Film Award at the FeKK – Ljubljana Short Film Festival for her film “Magical Castle is Here Now”. In the meantime, she wrote, directed and edited several short films and music videos, while also writing the script and attending various workshops to develop her debut feature film.
